Our Mission

The Canadian Association of Public Health Dentistry is a non-profit organization that strives to improve the oral health of Canadians through advocacy and advancement of dental public health.

Dental public health involves the diagnosis, prevention and control of dental diseases and the promotion of oral health through organized community efforts.

Dental public health serves the community as the patient rather than the individual through research, health promotion, education and group dental programs.

Our Values

- We value oral health as a component of health and recognize that oral health is determined by many factors including high quality public health services.
- We place priority on the well-being of communities and social justice for vulnerable groups while respecting the dignity and worth of individuals.
- We favour disease prevention through health promotion, while working with others to achieve best results.
- We support accountable stewardship of public health resources.

Membership

Our membership is comprised primarily of dental public health clinicians, scientists, educators, administrators, health promoters and policy makers from across Canada and abroad.
